Bailey's Team for Autism is pleased to announce the launch of our 2024 funding cycle, which will begin August 1, 2023. Please note that we will now accept proposals thru October 1st, 2023. Our Board of Directors will review proposals in January and February and grantees will be notified no later than March 1st of 2024.

Bailey's Team has been raising funds and providing grants to non-profit organizations since 2001 and to date we have funded over $1.3 million in support of individuals with autism spectrum disorders and their families. Our priority areas for funding include education and training, family support and resources, research, programming, and recreation. We do our best to select projects that support all ages of individuals on the autism spectrum in addition to those who support them including parents and other family members, educators, and other service providers. Please note that we do not provide direct financial assistance to families or individuals.

Priority will be given to detailed submissions demonstrating impact and the ability to measure results. Expected outcomes should be clearly identified, and a detailed budget and plan for execution should also be included. Bailey's Team looks to fund projects that can begin implementation as a result of funding – whether we are the sole source or part of a larger collaborative funding effort (if applicable, please provide other funding source information, amounts, and grant status). A thorough report including measurable outcomes and results will be expected at the end of the grant cycle along with a detailed breakdown of how the awarded funds were used.

To obtain our funding application, please visit www.baileysteam.org/forms.html. If you have any questions or require additional information, please contact Beth Jerskey at beth_jerskey@brown.edu.

We look forward to receiving your proposal. Thank you for all that you do to support individuals with autism and their families.

Sincerely,

Beth Jerskey
